Happy Holidays and a Blessed Solstice!

The days are definitely getting shorter with Solstice less than a week away. It's always one of my favorite times to be out to greet the sunrise on Winter Solstice - a blessed time! OK, I'm a sunrise person ... as long as the coffee is good.

General Website Announcements

For the end of the year, I'd first like to announce a sale on altar crystals - 25% off until the January 31! The promotional shipping also applies and that likewise ends at the end of the year, so it's kind of a double sale.

And, I'm adding a new section in the crystal categories ... "From My Personal Collection". From time to time, I have a number of crystals from my working groups whose time with me is done and they have asked to move on to another Keeper. It's always bittersweet as they will be sorely missed and yet, they have so much to do and their role is to help many until they find the One. This may be their last home or they may in turn ask their new Keeper to allow them to move on. Know that they go with much love and are imbued with good energies ... and will be lovingly missed.

And over the holidays (in between family, painting and house renovation), I'm going to work on a better catalog presentation. Not sure how that will work, but if any of you have ideas, please let me know. I kind of like the Newbie pages (and hope you do too), but want to make looking easier for you!

More Starbrary Channelings

As channeled through Mirahh, Tza-shuh (a Sirius starbrary) and M'Hgah (a lightning strike quartz)

It is a start - just to know what peoples have visited. Now, insights. There were more than 6 races of Star Peoples. Far more. The races blended and came on their own - as well as those from minor systems. All have had an impact on humans. These have, for the most part, been peaceful and good peoples - ones who tried to assist humans in their development and make positive contributions. Their legacies are found on the walls of caves, in the inscriptions of the temples of Egypt, in the ancient writings and in the crystal record. For eons, these writings have remained latent, awaiting the appropriate time and the right stage in human development to again be legible. We, the Star Peoples, are gone but, our decedents live on as human-star hybrids - "blended peoples". This is why certain starbraries have such an affinity for certain people ... the memories are there are present and even though diluted through generations, are awakened like a dream scarcely remembered, but significantly there.

During the period of approximately 200,000 to 20,000 earth years before this time, we visited your planet many, many times and delighted in the development we saw. It is indeed rare in these planetary systems when a planet such as yours begins to evolve and grow - so green, so full of life and so rich in its diversity. We have seen the development and the evolution from the primitive peoples we first found to where you are now. Most of our peoples had non-interference doctrines so we could not directly alter the path of your growth, but we could interact and speak with you, allow you to ask questions and learn.

We have been asked about the many messages we have left, notably on crystals. Although mainly on quartz, some others have been marked as activators or enhancers such as ruby, garnet, calcite and a few others. Quartz is such a perfect medium, however, as it readily shifts to our electrical impulses, leaving the varied glyphs that you see. Like human handwriting, there are differences, and yet similarities, in their expressions. Most humans do not consider crystals as beings and yet, we tell you that they are. They are of a different realm and their concept of time is expansive. Communications with humans are difficult since they move like little gnats, quickly and randomly. Understand that the quartz you work with today continues to grow and change, but it takes years, decades, eons ...

Like humans, crystals too have blended, but on a different level. They lovingly host the communications left upon their surfaces and help humans access the information meant to assist at various times in their development. Many of you have noted that starbraries are appearing in far greater number and variety for the time is ripe to reconnect with that wonderful legacy that has been painstakingly retained by the Crystalline Realm.

We join humans in the celebration of such a reunion ... and we look forward to once again assisting humans in their quest for advancement and enlightenment.

Happiest of Holidays

And with that, I want to personally thank you all for your wonderful friendship, your comments, your interactions and your energies in the transition from eBay to Topaz Spirits - The Web! May these holidays be full of family, friends, love, joy and abundance with the brightest of blessings for the coming year ...

Blessings always -

Jan
